The place we call home

- Home as territory
- Home as a haven
- Home as love and belonging
- Home as identity

(Series 2022)

Don't we all want to live in the place we call home, with the people and things that we love, in communities where we look out for one another, doing what matters to us?

That's the #socialcarefuture we want to see.

When organised well, social care helps nurture an ecosystem of relationships and support in our local communities that we can draw on to live our lives in the way that we want to, whatever our age or stage in life.

That's the #socialcarefuture we want to see.

Making it real

- I have a place I can call home, not just a 'bed' or somewhere that provides me with care.

- I live in a home which is accessible and designed so that I can be as independent as possible.

- We make sure people feel safe and comfortable in their own home, which is accessible, with appropriate aids, adaptations, technology and medical equipment.

- We know that the place where people live, the people they live with, and the support they get, are important to their wellbeing and often interlinked. We have conversations with people to make sure we get all aspects right for them as individuals.

- We have conversations with people to discover what they want from life and the care, support and housing that will enable this, without restricting solutions to formal services and conventional treatments.

Tech for good

- Our rights, our choices
- Reaffirms our personhood and identity
- Respects our home & our relationships
- Helps us to be more connected to and included in our community
- Empowers us to exercise more control over our lives
- Offers more convenience

Tech for bad

- Is done to us
- Undermines our personhood and identity
- Does not respect our home and our relationships
- Leaves us more isolated and segregated
- Takes away control
- Inconvenient

Thank you!
