What People Want From TEC

We need to re-focus on people, their families and unpaid carers:

- Co-production, so TEC is shaped and chosen by the people who will be using it
- Seamless TEC that links with the technologies people already use
- Familiar, easy to use technologies and devices
- Adoption of a common structure and language for TEC, to help with awareness and selection of the right solutions people live really good lives:

What people want from technology enabled care

Implementing TEC so we can all live gloriously ordinary lives

- Identifies nine user priorities for technology-enabled care
- Emphasises user involvement in TEC design
- Advocates for understandable terminology and a unified language
- Highlights TEC's potential to aid more people in living independently
